both of these varieties are showy, bold-beaned hybrids developed over the past decades (the pacamara in El Salvador, the Maracaturra originally by Farmer Byron Corrales in Nicaragua)